AT THE GYM – Exercising in a group or doing situps on your own: music makes it easier and more fun. You pay a fee to use this music. Find out more about the costs here.

How we calculate the fee

The costs are based on the number of square meters and how the music is used. We make a distinction between music that is central to your activities (foreground music) or music used as background music.

Background music is music played in the reception area, changing rooms or sports halls. If music is played as foreground music in an exercise class, we calculate the fee separately for each room where a class is taught.
