where the music is

A radio station event on an FM frequency refers to a temporary radio station intended to broadcast a programme over the airwaves linked to a specific event, festivity or other type of event. If you plan to start a radio station, you first need official permission from the Dutch Media Authority (CvdM).

Request a licence

This licence allows you to use any music during your radio broadcast event for the duration of your license without having to negotiate with all music authors separately to obtain copyright permission for the use of their repertoire.

Once you have obtained permission from the CvdM, please inform us so that we can grant you permission and a licence to use music during your broadcasts.

To apply for a license or if you have any questions, please contact us at RTVkabel@bumastemra.nl. Visit our website here.
